Got Balvenie?

Balvenie 12 Doublewood

To make The Balvenie DoubleWood, David Stewart MBE takes whisky that has spent at least 12 years in traditional whisky casks, American Oak ex-bourbon barrels and hogsheads, and moves it to Spanish oak ex-oloroso sherry casks for an additional nine months.

The whisky is then transferred to large oak vessels called "tuns" for 3-4 months to allow the whiskies from individual casks to "marry".

The traditional casks soften and add delicate character, the sherry wood brings depth and fullness of flavor and the final few months in our tuns allow the whiskies to marry harmoniously.

NOSE

Sweet fruit and olorosso sherry notes, layered with honey and vanilla.

TASTE

Smooth and mellow with nutty sweetness, cinnamon spice, and sherry.

FINISH

Long and warming.

Balvenie 14 Caribbean Cask

The Balvenie Caribbean Cask 14 year old single malt whisky has been matured in traditional oak whisky casks for 14 years, and then 'finished' in casks that previously held Caribbean rum.

To create the ideal finish Malt Master David C. Stewart MBE filled American oak casks with his own blend of select West Indian rums.

When he judged the casks to be ready, the rum was replaced with the 14 year old spirit and the wood was put to work adding the final touches.

NOSE

Rich, sweet, and creamy toffee with fresh fruits.

TASTE

Rounded with vanilla and sweet oak notes.

FINISH

Soft and lingering.
